

Get all the family's activities organised with the

NEW and IMPROVED Yummy Mummy Family Calendar for 2009!!

Designed by Kerrie, a local mum of three small children, the Yummy Mummy Family Calendar was inspired by the busy lives of a growing family. Individual activities, social and sport events, not to mention homework deadlines for the little people, and that's before adult criteria.

The calendar is A4 size, wall hanging with a week per page, and space for all the family to accommodate up to 4 children. There is a top tip of the week along with designated columns for shopping, to do and maintenance lists. A must for family organising! Birthdays and birthday parties are frequent events and so there is a section specifically for birthday dates and of course you put the required present on the shopping list! The weekly top tips are all based on Kerrie's own experiences in the house/general life with three kids and their father. Some are just gentle reminders for example time to buy the Christmas tree and book your summer holidays! Others, how to treat chocolate stains and how to ensure you have two socks at the end of every wash!!! By popular demand, the stick figures in last year's calendar have now been removed!

The calendar is now only £12.50, and 50% of all profits are to be donated to the BeKids charity www.bekids.org.
